Shrank From Crowd.

When the train drew in the station at Cleveland, Mrs. Chadwick caught a glimpse of the great crowds which swarmed about the train-shed and was grouped on vantage points on the heights surrounding the station. She instinctively shrank back into a corner of the drawing room and said:

"I cannot see why all those people should be here."

After the train had been emptied of its passengers, United States Marshal Chandler, of Ohio, stepped aboard her car, the "Alma," and, after a brief stay in the drawing room, where he was introduced to Mrs. Chadwick. She asked that he be taken out as speedily as possible and preceded by Emil Chadwick and Freda Swannstrom, the nurse, the party made its way to the platform and thence through the dense crowds to a carriage in waiting.

Although in her own city no friendly face greeted her at the car, and Mrs. Chadwick stepped into her carriage as if she had been an entire stranger to this country.

The crowd had become impatient with the delay of Mrs. Chadwick's arrival, and began to jeer and whistle. As soon as Mrs. Chadwick's son, Emil, and her faithful nurse, Freda Swannstrom, appeared on the car platform and stepped to the station, Mrs. Chadwick was recognized by the crowd and there was a spontaneous outburst of jeers, whistles and shouts of coarse epithets.

Shouts of "Here's the notes," and "Where's the money?" greeted Mrs. Chadwick upon her appearance and as the viciousness of the mob dawned upon her, she seemed to grow faint and wavered as though about to fall. When she seemed to be about to fall, she was supported by her two deputy marshals.

Spectacular Arrival.

The arrival of the woman was most spectacular in every respect and in marked contrast to her previous arrivals in her home city. As soon as the police could clear a way and bring about some semblance of order about the platform, the officers led their way toward the gate and out through the entrance. There the street was almost blocked and well nigh impassable to the carriages and teams. The camera fiend was there in all his glory, despite the overcast sky and dark day, and through this battery passed Mrs. Chadwick with Marshal Chandler and his two deputies into their carriage. They were immediately driven away to the Federal building. All the time the crowd kept hooting and jeering and as the carriages rolled away from the station they were followed by some of the crowd. The shouts and cries were taken up, and passed along, all the way to the Federal building, through the busiest part of the city. As the carriages neared the building the crowds on the sidewalks broke into the streets and many began to run beside the carriages expecting to see Mrs. Chadwick as she entered the building by the main entrance. In this the crowd was disappointed, for the carriage with the prisoner was driven into an alley in the rear of the building. As the crowd was being cleared from the alley eager, peering faces were thrust into the carriage windows, and vulgar expressions were hurled at the occupants. Mrs. Chadwick was taken to the fifth floor on the freight elevator. The police continued to beat back the crowd, and out of the next carriage the nurse, Freda, was assisted and taken up to join her mistress. Emil did not leave the carriage throughout the entire proceeding.

While Mrs. Chadwick with her nurse was in the Federal building Emil, in the carriage outside was subjected to the scolding of the mob, and was forced to listen to anathemas and malicious, as well as sarcastic and bitter references to "notes," "diamonds," "securities," and the like. Even the clerks in the post-office, working on the ground floor of the building, flocked to a rear door, located next to the one entered by Mrs. Chadwick and laughingly shouted "Let's see what the police find out about the baggage of Mrs. Chadwick and Freda's, which they saw through the carriage doors."

Declined to Plead to Indictment.

Mrs. Chadwick had a long conference with her attorney, Sheldon R. Kerrish. She said she did not care to plead to the indictments just found against her and was taken to the jail. When she was about to leave the Federal building the excitement was greater, if possible, than before. The carriage after a few delays forced a passage and once out of the alley, Mrs. Chadwick was hurried away to the jail. She passed through streets with thronged curbs only to run the gauntlet of another mob that started gathering for hours. Into the jail the prisoner was hurried to the accompaniment of more shouts and jeers and the clicking of photographer's cameras. The son Emil, following in another carriage, soon joined his mother, and not until then did the crowd that for five hours had been increasing begin to decrease. Freda remained with Mrs. Chadwick about half an hour, and when she came out entered a carriage and was driven to the Chadwick residence at No. 124 Euclid Avenue. Emil remained with his mother for nearly an hour when he took his departure.

Statement to People.

While aboard the train en route here, Mrs. Chadwick summoned the Associated Press representative, and to him dictated "a statement to the people of Ohio" as follows:

"Bearing on my side of the story, all has been told the people of Ohio. It ought to be sufficient proof to you of my good faith to face my creditors and accusers. I have lived in Cleveland for many years, and outside of negotiating some large loans, which have all been paid back in Cleveland and some things that I may have done, which may not be considered good business, I do not think any one who knows me will attempt to accuse me of any wrong. I ask the people of Ohio to suspend judgment until the case has had a full hearing."

FIVE NEW INDICTMENTS.

Takes Action Against Mrs. Chadwick, Beckwith and Spear.

(By Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, O., December 14.—The Federal grand jury returned five indictments against Mrs. Chadwick, three of which charge her with aiding and abetting officers of a national bank to defraud the institution, and two with conspiring against the United States. Four indictments were returned against President Beckwith, of the Oberlin Bank, two charging him with misapplication of the funds of a national bank; one with conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States, and one with certifying checks when no funds were on hand. Indictments were returned also against Cashier Spear. They are the same as those against President Beckwith.

The first witness before the grand jury was United States Marshal Chandler, who presented to the jury the sworn statement of President Beckwith. This is the document which has been called the "confession" of Beckwith. It sets forth in effect, that there were two notes of $50,000 each, both signed in the name of Andrew Carnegie, and that Mrs. Chadwick declared positively both to him and Cashier Spear, that she personally saw Mr. Carnegie sign his name to both notes. It was also set forth in the statement that a New York attorney who claimed to be a representative of Andrew Carnegie had declared to Beckwith in the name of the Chicago bank, that the notes were genuine. The endorsement of the notes by Beckwith and Spear was admitted but the statement declared neither of them had any idea that they were to be used in the manner in which Mrs. Chadwick handled them. Mr. Beckwith's statement declared that he received from Mr. Reynolds information to the effect that "everything was all right," and that a large amount of good securities belonging to Mrs. Chadwick were held by the Wade Park Bank. This encouraged him to make loans to Mrs. Chadwick. Mr. Beckwith's statement set forth the fact that Mrs. Chadwick had secured large loans from other bankers, and had met them promptly. There was no reason to believe that she would not treat loans made by the Oberlin Bank in the same manner.

Several other witnesses were heard. District Attorney Sullivan handed in the documents which he had previously prepared and in five minutes thereafter Mrs. Chadwick, Beckwith and Spear had been indicted.

WILLING TO APPEAR.

Carnegie's Only Reason for Not Going Is His Illness.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, December 14.—That Andrew Carnegie is willing to appear against Mrs. Chadwick when his health has improved was made clear in a statement given out to-day at Mr. Carnegie's residence by his secretary.

"Mr. Carnegie's only reason for not going to Cleveland at this time, has already been given," said the secretary. "His health will not admit of his taking the trip save at considerable risk, as his physician has already said he is suffering from lumbago."

"He has been willing to make a deposition at his home and later on his return from Florida, he will lend his aid and be present to testify at any subsequent proceeding, such as a trial, whenever his testimony is needed. His one and only reason for not going to Cleveland now is that he is unable to stand the journey in this weather."

worthless or partly worthless stocks? A bank in Kansas, which has the holdings of a hard working community, wires to a Chicago bank: "Loan out our balance of $100,000." Another bank in Iowa, which also has the savings of a community, wires to the Chicago bank: "Loan out our balance of $100,000." And when a hundred banks have sent in the same message, the Chicago bank wires to the City National Bank, in New York: "Loan out our balance of $100,000,000." When big banks have sent in similar orders, the City National Bank has $100,000,000 to lend, and raise or lower the price of stocks at will.

"Mr. Rogers gives the word to Mr. Sullivan: 'Let them have $100,000,000 to boost the market,' and then we hear of Pruthingham rising in the Stock Exchange and crying: 'We have $100,000,000. Bring on anything you have; we'll buy it.'"

DOING GOOD WORK.

Members Well Pleased With Bible Society's Doings.

At a recent meeting of the board of managers of the Bible Society of Virginia reports showed that the society was doing good work in the State. Mr. John L. Williams, president, and those present were Rev. Dr. P. T. McFadden, R. T. Brooke, J. L. Williams, B. H. Chalkley, the Rev. H. P. Atkins, the Rev. A. Marks and the Rev. V. B. Campbell.

It developed from the reports that Bible had been sent to Phoenix, Norfolk and other places for mission work.

The secretary's report was a most interesting document, and it showed that active work was in progress all over the State.

SAY PRESBYTERIAN CREED IS DOOMED

Clearing of "Father of Revision" From Heresy Charge Declared to be Beginning of End.

(In the decision of the Presbytery of Nassau, absolving the Rev. Dr. Samuel T. Carter from the charge of heresy, is the beginning of a movement which, it is declared, will sound the tocsin of war throughout the Presbyterian Church.

The conservative element indignantly declare that the "Father of Revision" for such he is called—has departed from conservatism. A bit of ecclesiastical politics known in the history of the sect. The liberals say that the decision of the Presbytery of Nassau means the casting off of the incubus of the Westminster Confession and the adoption of a simpler creed, expressed in what is known as the Brief Statement. Cries of unfair play, of seceding and of conduct equivalent in religion to that of Mrs. Chadwick in finance are raised by the conservatives.

It is predicted that before many months the Church will be again with the question of a final acceptance of a modern creed, and that the conservatives will be overwhelmed in the fall of the theological structure reared with such care at old Westminster.—New York Herald.

HEAVILY FINED.

Young Man Who Slashed the Seats of a Passenger Train.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ABINGDON, VA., Dec. 14.—D. C. Broad, who was fined $500 and costs in the May or Court Monday for slashing a number of seats in a Norfolk and Western car November 20th, while drinking, was brought before the court at Abingdon this morning. He was followed by Jake Denton, a brakeman, into a bar-room.

Mr. Denton promptly arrested Broadwine, who understood that he had just had a "big time" slashing seats on an ear coming from Bristol, and started up him to the depot. When they had got from the saloon onto the street Broadwine was taken to the station and placed in the care of the station agent at the depot until Officer Crabtree could be summoned to the scene. The passenger train then pulled out.

He was given a preliminary hearing before Mayor Hines, who released the prisoner upon his giving bond in the sum of $100, and the trial was continued until December 12th.

On the above date the railroad company's witnesses were on hand, but the prisoner did not turn up. Mr. Broadwine had been to Bristol on the night he was arrested, and was drinking freely. His home is in Greendale, this county, and it is deeply regrettable that this should have occurred, as his family are among the best people in the county.

Died of His Wounds.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ELKINS, N. C., Dec. 14.—Aquilla Reclor, who on Monday engaged in a pistol duel with T. M. Morley at Spaulding, Allegheny county, died today of his wounds. Morley cannot live through the night. The men quarreled over a cattle trade.

HOTEL BURNED AT MOCKSVILLE

Lady Manager Badly Burned and Her Sister Loses Her Hair.

GUESTS HAD NARROW ESCAPE

One Traveling Man Forced to Jump From Second Story. No Insurance.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., December 14.—The Davis Hotel, at Mocksville, was destroyed early this morning, causing a loss of $5,000 with no insurance. It was a large frame building, erected in 1880, Mrs. M. E. Kelly, who owned and conducted the hotel, was badly burned in the face in her efforts to extinguish the flames.

Her sister, Miss Jane Austin, had her hair burned off. Several traveling men, who were stopping at the hotel, had narrow escapes, and one was forced to leap from a second story window.

The Swigwood Hotel, on the opposite side of the street, caught fire several times.

The favorableness of the wind saved the business portion of the town from being destroyed.

ASHLAND SCHOOL BURNS.

Temporary Quarters at Randolph-Macon.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ASHLAND, VA., Dec. 14.—The public school building of Ashland, known as the graded school, was destroyed by fire to-day. A defective flue was the cause. The school building, which was consumed in just twelve minutes. Nearly two hundred children of four grades were crowded in the closest possible floor area. They escaped without any danger, however, as the building was quickly emptied.

The Ashland School Board is in a serious quandary as to where to provide suitable school room. The secretary of Randolph-Macon College, Mr. William Brown, has come to the rescue, temporarily by lending the college chapel room until January 1st, and the offer was quickly accepted. School will be resumed tomorrow in the room.

It is likely that the School Board will act quickly by condemning some private property for the purpose, and force the matter upon an arbitration committee. The building just destroyed was insured for $50, which will give a small nucleus to work on. Private property will be moderately solicited and a mass-meeting held, as it is proposed to consider nothing but an ample and up-to-date new building, which will be a credit to the town.

NEW CHARTERS.

Attorney-General Gilmer Goes to Charlotte to Defend Registrar.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALPH, N. C., Dec. 14.—The Secretary of the State charts the Eagle Manufacturing Company, of Wilmington; capital, $5,000, with privilege of increasing to $25,000. Incorporators, James A. Lewis, J. A. Powers and others. Buggies and other vehicles are to be manufactured.

The directors of the Central Hospital for the insane here held their annual meeting to-night, received annual reports from the superintendent and other officers and formulated an address to the Legislature for increased facilities. The report showed 350 inmates, the utmost capacity being 405.

The Murphy, N. C., Electric Light and Power Company is chartered, with $5,000 capacity to establish a light and power plant there. J. Gentry is the principal incorporator.

Attorney-General Gilmer left for Charlotte to-night to defend J. W. Simpson, who is to be tried in the Federal Court on the charge that while serving as registrar for the election of 1902, he unlawfully discriminated against a negro preacher named Banks. He declined to let his register because he misapprehended "dividend."

TO MOVE COURT.

Wants Session U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Asheville.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Dec. 14.—There is every probability that the United States Circuit Court of Appeals will hold its spring term in Asheville. Judge J. C. Sprigg, who returned yesterday from Richmond, Va., where he had been sitting on the bench during a term of the Circuit Court, states that the Judges are in full favor of holding one session of the court in Asheville, and if a suitable place for holding court can be secured, the court will be removed to Asheville in May. The May term is not the next term of the United States Circuit Court, but Judge Pritchard said he would prefer that the February term be held in Asheville.

Judge Pritchard, speaking of the movement on foot to enlarge the Federal Building, said he had communicated with certain officials in Washington, advising that an entirely new building be erected for the exclusive use of the United States Circuit Court, instead of an enlargement of the present Federal Building. The construction of a court building would do away with the question of finding a place in which to hold the court. The court accommodations could be secured, he thought, at least one term of the court would be held in Asheville each year.

IN BANKRUPTCY.

Proceedings Are Commenced in Court for C. C. Ostrander.

Yesterday proceedings in bankruptcy were commenced by Roscoe C. Nelson, attorney for Chase C. Ostrander, merchant of this city. The liabilities are placed at $11,697.44 and the assets at $5,507. Debts amounting to $6,220 are preferred, these being due to C. C. Ostrander. Another preferred creditor is C. A. Ostrander on unsecured notes of over $7,000.

Racing at New Orleans.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Dec. 14.—Totness and Aladdin were the only winning favorites in the morning. The morning race—five furlongs—Totness (7 to 5) first, Oriskany (10 to 1) second, Little Jack Horner (7 to 1) third. Time, 1:28.5.
